

Entertainment WEEKLY

Cyber BY CABLE NEUHAUS A weekly spin on the Web Digest

SOLID BUILDUP Begin with a couple of sexy ladies who own some sturdy tools, a videocam, and a catchy domain name. Gather 'em together and you've got? If you live within shouting distance of the Hollywood sign, you've got an agent for sure. An agent who thinks he can parlay your little handyman.com instructional videos into a TV show—"a cross between a sitcom and This Old House," says Sirena Irwin, a Southern California actress who, with partner Ana Yazdi-Head, stars in the handyman.com programs. Irwin, who has been a guest on Ellen and other shows, says their agent "is talking to networks about creating a show" because—well, if you're pretty and live in L.A., why not?
