

OLIVIA FLOOD-WYLIE

Olivia Flood-Wylie is a Los Angeles-born comedian who moved to Amsterdam to achieve her lifelong dream of not being in America anymore. After three years in Amsterdam, she is now back in Los Angeles, and trying her best to remain positive about traffic. As a standup, she was house comedian for The Comedy Embassy, and was named a "2020 One to Watch" by Funny Women. She debuted her first hour-long comedy special, Slowpoke at the Boom Chicago Comedy Festival in 2021, and her second hour special, Half and Half in February of 2023. She has taught improv for the world-renowned improv theater Boom Chicago, was a founding member of Grover, the theater's first Harold team and CLOGS, their house short form team. Olivia is currently an actor and writer with the sketch group, That's Hollywood, Baby.
