

Nancy Friedrich

Nancy Friedrich credits include guest starring roles on Amazon's Homecoming, Hulu's Pen15, and NBC's A.P. Bio. She has also recurred on Comedy Central's Another Period and NBC's A to Z.

Prior to LA Nancy acted in Chicago and was nominated for a Jeff Award for Lead Actress in a play for the role of Jennifer in The Dastardly Ficus and Other Tales of Woe and Misery, and she won the Jeff Award for Supporting Actress for her the role of Mary Warren in The Crucible. Nancy also wrote and performed sketch comedy with her sketch comedy group Pennybear and performed improv at the iO Chicago with Virgin Daquiri, and at The Annoyance with In a World. At The Annoyance she also co-wrote and performed the two person comedic play Waiting for Drew Peterson.

Since moving to Los Angeles she has performed characters in shows all over town including at Hot Tub with Kurt and Kristen, Super Serious Show, and Andy Kindler's Particular show. She has also appeared in shorts such as Todd Halloween and Nadine, which she co-wrote & directed. Nadine won Best Direction for a Comedy Short at the 2019 Central States Indie Fan Film Festival.

A regular runner, Nancy has tripped and fallen on most every sidewalk in Los Feliz.