

BILLY GARAN

Quick Synopsis:

Billy has been seen doing comedy on NBC, ABC, Showtime, and A&E. His career as an actor has covered a wide range of appearances from ABC's Phenom and America's Funniest People, NBC's Saved by the Bell, and California Dreams, as well as Showtime's Sherman Oaks. In 2017, In Honor of Jack written and starring both Billy and Bill Rutkoski was an official selection in the Manhattan Film Festival as well as the NYC Indie Film Festival.

BILLY GARAN began his career performing stand-up at Catch a Rising Star in NYC. He expanded his career by joining a comedy troupe called Funny Business which toured hundreds of colleges throughout the country. Billy's staggering list of impressions is demonstrated in his Hollywood High routine where he plays all the characters in a classroom of celebrity students, ranging from Truman Capote to Sylvester Stallone. He not only does the voices with superb accuracy, but also the mannerisms.

Billy's high energy and machine gun style delivery have defined him as a unique talent, having made him a valuable opening act for Jay Leno, Jerry Seinfeld, and even Michael Bubl  as well as many other musical acts. He has produced, written, and performed numerous radio commercials and has been seen doing comedy on NBC, Showtime, and A&E. His career as an actor has covered a wide range of appearances from ABC's Phenom & America's Funniest People, NBC's Saved by the Bell & California Dreams, Showtime's Sherman Oaks, and an ABC pilot called Worlds Apart.

In 2017, In Honor of Jack written and starring both Billy and Bill Rutkoski was an official selection in the Manhattan Film Festival as well as the NYC Indie Film Festival.